

Success Stories

Yes! I am segregating my household waste

Name : Ujwala Narendra Patil

Zone Name: Pakhari

- This case study focuses on a housewife named Ujwala Narendra patil who has live in Pakhari lane with her husband and son.
- She taken the initiative to adopt segregated waste management practices in her household. Ujwala's efforts demonstrate how an individual can contribute to waste reduction and environmental sustainability through simple actions.
- Ujwala lives in Worli koliwada, Pakhari region which is highly density region where houses were very short and very nearby to each other.
- She recognized the increasing environmental concerns related to waste generation and its impact on the planet. She got Inspired by Session organized by SWK in her area.
- Ujwala decided to take responsibility for managing waste in her household more effectively and keeps one bag for Dry waste and bin for wet Waste.
- She is very proud after her family called as Zero waste family.

Thank you Swachh Worli Koliwada Team!!!

Yes! I am segregating my household waste

Name : Malti Krushna Shinde

Zone Name: Bhandarwada Zone

- This case study focuses on a housewife named Ujwala Narendra patil who lived in a Bhandarwada Lane which densely populated slum area where waste management was a significant concern. The lack of awareness and infrastructure resulted in the indiscriminate dumping of mixed waste, leading to environmental pollution and health hazards.
- When SWK Program initiated with her in door-to-door campaign taken by to encourage community members to actively participate in waste segregation.
- She highly recognized the environmental problem after serval visit. Then she started segregation process in her house with proper instruction given by Supervisor.
- Now Malti encouraged everyone to take responsibility for segregating their waste before disposing of it.

Thank you Swachh Worli Koliwada Project Team !

Yes! I am segregating my household waste

Name : Ritesh Shinde

Zone Name: Bajar Galli

- This case study highlights the efforts of Ritesh Shinde, a college boy living in Bajar Galli, who initiated waste segregation practices in his community after being inspired by an awareness rally taken by SWK program.
- Ritesh's actions demonstrate how individual inspiration and determination can bring about positive change in waste management, even in challenging environments.
- After attending the awareness rally, Ritesh sought to deepen his understanding of waste management and segregation.
- He conducted research, accessed online resources, and consulted with Supervisor of SWK program to learn about the benefits of waste segregation, different waste categories, and appropriate disposal methods.
- Now he started giving Waste in segregated manner and he keep awaring other people too.

Thank you Swachh Worli Koliwada Team!!!

Yes! I am segregating my household waste

Name : Jarom Matesh Worlikar

Zone Name: Kranti to Navjivan

- This case study focuses on the efforts of Jarom Matesh Worlikar. He lives with 3 family members in the Kranti To Navjivan lane,
- He was motivated by the awareness session organized by the SWK Program. Jarom furthered his understanding of waste segregation through independent research, online resources, and interactions with experts. He familiarized himself with the various types of waste, including recyclables, organic waste, and non-recyclables, and learned about the correct methods for sorting and disposing of each category.
- He got to know that his waste will be recycled; that wet waste will be recycled into compost and dry waste for recycling to make new things out of it.
- Now he happily gives his waste in two separate bins.

Thank you Swachh Worli Koliwada Team!!!

Thank You